Is the Fear of Germs Keeping your Business Down?

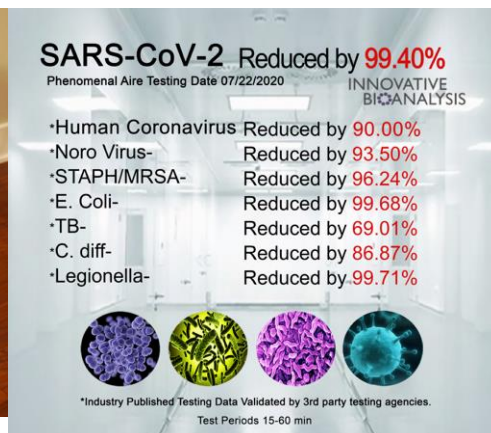

Airborne contaminants that can be harmful to our bodies are prominent in indoor spaces making people weary of gathering together indoors. During this pandemic, many companies have marketed safer operating conditions and have since seen an increase in business by putting their customers' minds at ease.

We Have The Solution!

With your customers' health and safety in mind, Dillett Mechanical is proud to offer a portable air circulation system using Phenomenal Aire Cold Plasma Generator Technology. This system will improve indoor air quality by decreasing harmful elements found in the air such as viruses, bacteria, mold, and allergens.

How it Works:

Our portable air circulation system neutralizes harmful particles in the air with the use of ion technology. As air flows through the system's plasma field, ions are produced. These ions attach to harmful particles rendering them ineffective at harming our bodies. Studies have shown that Phenomenal Aire products have been shown to filter out as much as 99.4% of airborne contaminants from circulating air.
